Atrium Staffing Awarded MSP Contract for Coach

NEW YORK, New York - Coach, a designer and manufacturer of high-end leather goods and accessories including purses, wallets, outerwear, and luggage, has awarded Atrium Staffing a contract to be the Master Service Provider for all operations in New York and New Jersey. Atrium will manage a group of 10 subcontractors to provide support in the niche areas of creative, design, professional, HR, accounting and finance to Coach.

"Atrium's program will reduce our costs and better manage the overall process of temporary staffing, including the on boarding and pre-screening requirements. Their proprietary, web-based tool consolidates the requisition process, provides tracking and reporting tools, and creates a single weekly invoice" states Sara Patterson, Sr. Manager of Human Resources at Coach.

Rebecca Cenni, CEO and founder of Atrium says, "Coach has been a valued client for several years. We felt our Managed Service Program would streamline the activities of their recruiters, reduce costs internally and offer tighter control over their contingent labor spend."
